

5 Cold Delivery Services You Can Use in Malaysia

ARTICLES

Do you need to deliver your fresh produce but worry about remaining fresh throughout the journey?

Consider using cold delivery services.

Cold delivery services deliver frozen food or other fresh produce to customers without having them physically present at the store. This can ensure that your products arrive at their destination with the same freshness and on time.

There are several benefits of using cold delivery services:

- They are convenient for both parties – they don't have to go out of their way to deliver your product.
- The customer doesn't have to wait around for a long time as they won't see what is being delivered.
- It reduces wastage and ensures no spoilage of the goods.

The best thing about cold delivery services is that anyone can use them regardless of where they live. If you want to use this service, then make sure that you choose one that has been established for some time.

There are several cold delivery services that you can use in Malaysia, some of which we have listed below:

DD Express

DD Express offers a wide range of products with multiple payment options. In addition, their team is always ready to help you customize your order according to your needs.

What differentiates them from other delivery services is their commitment to customer satisfaction. They offer free pick up for your orders during office hours and provide an easy-to-use platform for tracking your package.

You can also book on-demand pickups, so you don't have to wait until your order arrives, even after working hours.

DD Express covers several locations throughout Peninsular Malaysia, which you can check the coverage here: <https://dd.express>.

TransPrompt

TransPrompt's expertise and long experience in cold chain logistics enable you to deliver your fresh produce on time while maintaining its quality. In addition, they offer data-based insights to provide the best delivery throughout Malaysia.

All trucks are equipped with GPS so that you can track your goods in real-time. They also provide trucks with installed temperature sensors so that you can provide constant temperature monitoring during the delivery.

To use TransPrompt, you can book through EasyParcel, and they will pick up your product.

Also, it is a paperless delivery service with no printed air waybills required.

What makes Frio stands out is its ability to provide a delivery time guarantee for the delivery. This means that if you place an order at night or early morning, you can rest assured that your goods will arrive before the specified deadline.

Their refrigerated trucks are at least six months old and are fitted with GPS tracking systems, keeping their journeys easily trackable and your products safer throughout their journey. You can also request specific temperature control for your goods, regardless of the outside condition.

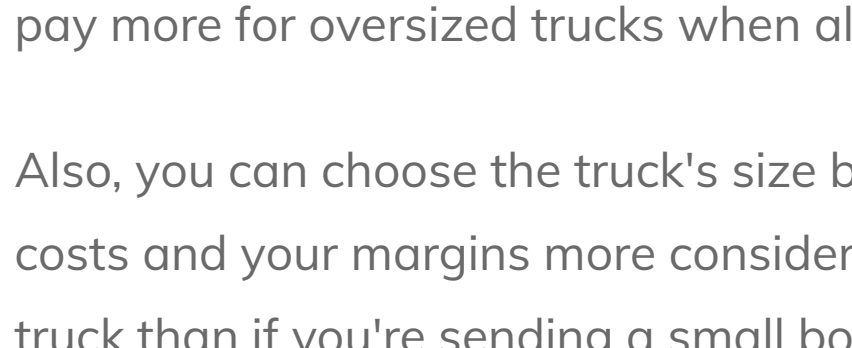

Their services, in turn, translate into lower cost per km, lower emissions, and better reliability for your delivery.

Getting your fresh produce moved by the right-sized trucks can make a whole lot of difference. You won't need to pay more for oversized trucks when all you require is a handy mid-sized truck to cater to your needs.

Also, you can choose the truck's size based on the weight of the cargo. Getting the size right ensures cheaper costs and your margins more considerable. For example, if you're shipping large produce, you'll want a bigger truck than if you're sending a small box.
